I. Purpose

Section 14.20195(c), Florida Statutes, requires the Suicide Prevention Coordinating Council (SPCC) to prepare an annual report and “present it to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by January 1, 2008, and each year thereafter.” This report provides an overview of 2014 national suicide statistics, 2015 state suicide statistics, and the activities in 2016 that support the strategic direction and goals in the State’s Suicide Prevention Plan. These goals are:

1. Integrate and coordinate suicide prevention activities across multiple sectors and settings.
2. Increase public knowledge of the factors that offer protection from suicidal behaviors and promote wellness and recovery.
3. Implement and monitor effective evidence-based programs to promote wellness and prevent suicide-related behaviors.
4. Provide training on the prevention of suicide and related behaviors to community and clinical service providers.
5. Promote suicide prevention as a core component of health care services.
6. Promote and implement effective clinical and professional practices for assessing and treating those identified as being at-risk for suicidal behaviors.
7. Increase the usefulness of national and state level surveillance data to inform suicide prevention efforts.

Part IV of this report lists Florida’s initiatives and actions as reported by the SPCC, Managing Entities, and other stakeholders. The initiatives and actions are divided by:

1. State, Tribal, and Local Governments;
2. Schools, Colleges, and Universities;
3. Nonprofit, Community, and Faith-based Organizations;
4. Health System, Insurers, and Clinicians; and
5. Individuals and Families.

Part V lists stakeholders’ planned initiatives and actions for October 2016 to December 2017.

Part VI provides an update on Florida’s suicide prevention grants to include: the Central Florida Pathways to Awareness, Support, and Services; “Now is the Time” Project AWARE Community Grant and the Florida Linking Individuals Needing Care Project; and Garret Lee Smith State/Tribal Suicide Prevention Program.

Part VII includes SPCC recommendations to enhance suicide prevention efforts to decrease suicide deaths in Florida.

II. An Overview of Suicide

The information presented in this section provides the most recent suicide data at the national and state levels.

II.A. National Data

National suicide data for 2014, which are the most recent data available from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, are summarized below:

- The total number of deaths in the United States due to suicide in 2014 was 42,773.¹
- Suicide was the tenth leading cause of death.²
- In 2014, the suicide rate per 100,000 population was 13.4³, which is higher than the rate of 12.6 reported in 2013.

Table 1 shows the 2014 national suicide deaths per age group. Notably, suicide was the second leading cause of death for individuals within the 10-34 age group and the fourth leading cause of death for ages 35-54.

Table 1: National Suicide Deaths in 2014

Age Group	Suicide Deaths	Causes of Death Ranking
10-14	425	2 nd cause of death
15-24	5,079	2 nd cause of death
25-34	6,569	2 nd cause of death
35-44	6,706	4 th cause of death
45-54	8,767	4 th cause of death
55-64	7,527	8 th cause of death

II.B. Florida

Data related to suicide in Florida, as reported in the Florida Vital Statistics Annual Report (2015),⁵ are summarized below:

- The total number of deaths due to suicide was 3,152 in 2015, which is an increase from 2,961 in 2014.
- Suicide was the ninth leading cause of death in Florida in 2015.
- In 2015, the suicide rate per 100,000 population was 15.9. This is an increase from 2014 (15.1), and higher than the 2014 national rate.

III. Florida Suicide Prevention Plan

The Florida Suicide Prevention Plan is organized into four strategic directions, seven goals, and eleven objectives that guide suicide prevention efforts and activities statewide. Additionally, due to the fact that suicide is a public health issue affecting family members, friends, coworkers, and communities, Section IV of this Report details initiatives and actions stakeholders have taken to implement this plan in their communities.

Strategic Direction	Goal	Objective(s)
Healthy and Empowered Individuals, Families, and Communities	1. Integrate and coordinate suicide prevention activities across multiple sectors and settings.	1.1 Integrate suicide prevention into the values, culture, leadership, and workplace of a broad range of organizations, programs, and schools with a role to support suicide prevention activities. 1.2 Establish effective, sustainable, and collaborative suicide prevention programming at the state, tribal, and local levels.
	2. Increase public knowledge of the factors that offer protection from suicidal behaviors and promote wellness and recovery.	2.1 Reduce prejudice, stigma, and discrimination associated with suicidal behaviors and mental and substance use disorders.
Clinical and Community Preventive Services	3. Implement and monitor effective evidence-based programs to promote wellness and prevent suicide-related behaviors.	3.1 Encourage community-based settings to implement effective evidence-based programs and provide education to promote wellness. 3.2 Intervene to reduce suicidal thoughts and behaviors in populations with suicide risk.
	4. Provide training on the prevention of suicide and related behaviors to community and clinical service providers.	4.1 Update and modify suicide prevention trainings to meet the provider's specific needs and roles.
Treatment and Support Services	5. Promote suicide prevention as a core component of health care services.	5.1 Promote timely access to assessment, intervention, and effective care for individuals with heightened risks for suicide. 5.2 Establish linkages between providers of mental health and substance abuse services and primary care and community-based programs, including peer support programs.
	6. Promote and implement effective clinical and professional practices for assessing and treating those identified as being at-risk for suicidal behaviors.	6.1 Adopt, disseminate, and implement guidelines for the assessment of suicide risk among persons receiving care in all settings. 6.2 Adopt, disseminate, and implement guidelines for clinical practice and continuity of care for providers who treat persons with suicide risks.
Surveillance, Research, and Evaluation	7. Increase the usefulness of national and state level surveillance data to inform suicide prevention efforts.	7.1 Identify available data to guide suicide prevention efforts.

IV. Florida Initiatives and Actions

There are many suicide prevention activities in local communities around the state that provide a foundation for moving the Florida Suicide Prevention Plan forward. The table below summarizes state level and local community suicide prevention initiatives and actions, as reported by the Suicide Prevention Coordinating Council (SPCC), Managing Entities, and other stakeholders. Initiatives and actions are listed under primary related goals; however, many activities support additional goals. This summary includes the suicide prevention activities that occurred between January-October 2016 as reported to the Statewide Office for Suicide Prevention.

VI. Grants

Florida has federal grant funding to assist with suicide prevention efforts. Below is a list of grants about which status updates were provided; however, this list is not inclusive of all grants addressing suicide prevention.

VI.A. Central Florida Pathways to Awareness, Support and Services, a “Now is the Time” Project AWARE Community Grant

The Central Florida Pathways to Awareness, Support, and Services (C PASS) Project is a partnership between the University of Central Florida (UCF), the University of South Florida (USF), and the Florida Council for Community Mental Health (FCCMH). This project aims to coordinate, strengthen, and enhance system-wide efforts to build upon and expand Youth Mental Health First Aid (YMHFA) training, behavioral health outreach, and engagement initiatives to high risk regions in Central Florida that include Citrus, Lake, Sumter, Orange, Seminole, and Volusia Counties. Training and outreach efforts target frontline professionals who work with high risk youth who experience mental health and substance use issues, and who encounter significant life stressors and adversities such as exposure to violence, abuse, neglect, poverty, and other forms of victimization.

The C PASS Project supports the training of those who interact with youth through their programs at the community level, including child protective investigators, community mental health partners, law enforcement, school personnel, faith-based leaders, parents, and other adults. Implementation of the C PASS Project is expected to increase the mental health literacy among youth-serving adults, policy-makers, and administrators of programs serving youth.

Major grant activities completed to date are summarized below:

- Established two Memorandums of Understanding with DCF with a focus on building and sustaining YMHFA instructors within DCF and enhancing training opportunities for child protective investigators, case managers, foster parents, and other key staff working with at-risk youth.
- Partnered with stakeholders to expand training to the Department of Juvenile Justice, law enforcement, faith-based organizations or centers, and other non-profit child-serving providers. To date, 34 partnership meetings were conducted to discuss YMHFA training or partnerships with the C PASS project.
- Certified five individuals as YMHFA instructors in Year One of the project, and 186 participants have been trained in YMHFA.
- Participated in 15 community events and disseminated 430 materials to promote the C PASS project.
- Disseminated 397 materials to promote mental health and help seeking resources at trainings, meetings, and events.
- Identified and referred 16 youth to mental health, crisis services, or other supportive services. Fifteen youth have been linked to services.

VI.B. Florida Linking Individuals Needing Care Project (FL LINC), a Garret Lee Smith State/Tribal Suicide Prevention Program

The FL LINC Project is a partnership between the Florida Office for Suicide Prevention, the Florida Council for Community Mental Health, the University of South Florida, and three of the Managing Entities to innovatively enhance services to reach at-risk priority populations and ensure that young people receive needed services.

Grant activities target the Central, Southeast, and Northeast regions of the state. The goal of this grant is to increase the number of agencies, organizations, schools, and groups working together to implement suicide prevention initiatives, in addition to improving care coordination services (follow-up care after a suicide or an attempt) to at-risk youth, ages 10-24.

Major grant activities completed to date are summarized below:

- Developed 29 informal partnerships with local agencies and schools to implement suicide prevention training.
- Promoted the LINC project and activities at local meetings and events; to date have participated in 257 partnership meetings and disseminated over 5,149 LINC promotional/marketing materials to promote suicide prevention awareness, education, and training.
- Implemented the following LINC trainings throughout the target regions:
 - Question, Persuade, Refer, and Treat, a suicide risk assessment and risk management training, online plus role play; 86 professionals have been trained.
 - Question, Persuade, and Refer, a basic suicide prevention gatekeeper training; 1,375 gatekeepers have been trained.
 - Suicide Risk Assessment & Safety Planning Training; 287 mental health professionals have been trained.
 - Care Coordination; 38 professionals have been trained.

- Family Training for parents/family members of at-risk youth; 69 family members have been trained.
- Postvention Training for school personnel; 35 individuals have been trained.
- Distributed suicide prevention related resources:
 - 6,858 National Suicide Prevention Lifeline materials at events, meetings, and trainings
 - 4,637 University of South Florida Family Guides at events, meetings, and trainings

VI.C. Now is the Time Project AWARE (Advancing Wellness and Resiliency in Education)

The purpose of the AWARE grant is to build and expand the capacity of state educational agencies to increase awareness of mental health issues among school-aged youth, provide training for school personnel and other adults who interact with school-aged youth to detect and respond to mental health issues in children and young adults, and connect children, youth, and families who may have behavioral health issues with appropriate services.

Major grant activities completed to date are summarized below:

- Youth Mental Health First Aid (YMHFA) training through FL AWARE. YMHFA is an 8-hour education program for youth-serving adults that introduces participants to the unique risk factors and warning signs of mental health problems in adolescents, and teaches individuals how to help an adolescent who is in crisis or experiencing a mental health challenge, including suicide.
 - FL AWARE has sponsored 55 YMHFA trainings throughout the state with 924 participants completing the YMHFA training during 2016.
 - FL AWARE sponsored YMHFA trainings are provided at no cost to participants. Additionally, 74 YMHFA instructors have been trained through FL AWARE sponsored Train-the-Trainer trainings
- Youth Suicide Awareness Training for K-12 Instructional Personnel. The Florida Department of Education, in collaboration with the Statewide Office of Suicide Prevention and suicide prevention experts, developed a list of approved youth suicide awareness and prevention training materials for K-12 instructional personnel. Information regarding approved trainings was disseminated to School District Superintendents, Student Services Directors, School District Staff Development Coordinators, and School Principals in a memo on October 14, 2016. A list of the FDOE-approved trainings can be found at the following websites: <http://sss.usf.edu/> and http://www.dcf.state.fl.us/programs/samh/mentalhealth/suicide-prevention/Suicide%20Approved%20Trainings_dps-2016-157a.pdf

VII. Council Recommendations

The Council, in partnership with key stakeholders, supports the implementation of national and state level suicide prevention strategies, the dissemination of new suicide prevention research findings, the coordination of services across sectors and disciplines, and the provision of comprehensive suicide prevention initiatives. The Council offers the following recommendations to support these efforts.

VII.A. Suicide Prevention Approaches for Health Care Providers

The Council believes that it is imperative for primary care providers to receive suicide prevention training as part of a comprehensive approach to prevent suicide. Findings from a study published in the Journal of General Internal Medicine titled Health Care Contacts in the Year Before Suicide Death summarized below illustrate this need: ⁹

- the majority of those who died by suicide received health services in the year prior to death;
- on average, 45 percent of individuals had contact with primary care within a month before suicide;
- over 60 percent of individuals made primary care and medical specialty visits without mental health diagnosis in the year before death; and
- psychological autopsy studies demonstrate that over 90 percent of those who die by suicide have mental health problems.

These findings have important implications for targeted suicide prevention and the critical role of primary care providers in the identification of suicidal risk and mental health conditions. In the absence of a mental health diagnosis and treatment by a behavioral health provider, a primary health care provider may be the only health care professional treating an individual at risk of suicide. This doctor/patient relationship provides a critical opportunity for screening and referral to behavioral health services and supports.

Comprehensive suicide prevention resources have been developed specifically for primary care providers. These resources are summarized below:

- The National Suicide Prevention Resource Center provides resources to assist primary care providers to take action and has identified five components to focus on as part of a comprehensive approach to prevent suicide: ¹⁰
 1. Create screening, assessment, intervention, and referral protocols;
 2. Train staff on those protocols, safety planning, and lethal means counseling;
 3. Establish agreements with behavioral health practices so that they will accept referrals;
 4. Create a care coordination and follow up system; and
 5. Distribute information about the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline and its services.
- The Zero Suicide prevention initiative provides resources to health care, primary care, emergency departments, and outpatient health providers. A Zero Suicide toolkit that helps organizations lead suicide prevention efforts is also available. Resources can be accessed on the Zero Suicide website at the following link: <http://zerosuicide.sprc.org/>.

Florida's Suicide Prevention Plan includes the goal of promoting suicide prevention as a core component of health care services. Although changing practice on a large scale in the area of primary care is challenging, the SOS, the Council, and key stakeholders are attempting to impact this critical need through the implementation of related objectives in Florida's Plan.

VII.B. Expand the capacity of the Statewide Office for Suicide Prevention (SOSP)

With a public health approach to reduce factors that increase risk and increase factors that promote resilience or coping, suicide prevention occurs at all levels of society—from the individual, family, and community levels to the broader social environment.¹¹ A successful suicide prevention strategy requires help and input from a variety of people in a system or community. Involving others in planning and carrying out collaborative efforts is key to ensuring suicide prevention work results in real change.

The Suicide Prevention Resources Center (SPRC) recommends conducting strategic planning efforts at the community level and provides strategies and resources to accomplish these efforts. The alignment of statewide and community based efforts is the approach being taken to implement Florida's Suicide Prevention Plan, with the SOSP facilitating this effort.

Currently, the SOSP has one full-time employee in the Office of Substance Abuse and Mental Health. The SOSP works in partnership, primarily with the Suicide Prevention Coordinating Council, to implement Florida's Suicide Prevention Plan. Limited manpower in the SOSP poses a significant challenge to leveraging partnership with Suicide Prevention Coalitions and local communities required to achieve the goals in Florida's Suicide Prevention Plan. The SOSP is also limited in its ability to apply for and manage grants to support implementation of Florida's Plan to reduce suicide.

The Council recommends expanding the scope and ability of the SOSP to enhance partnerships with local communities and key stakeholders in order to effectively implement Florida's Suicide Prevention Plan. Strategic planning with local communities to reduce suicide at the state and local levels is the goal and would require additional staff to accomplish. Expansion of the SOSP by at least one full-time Suicide Prevention Specialist would enhance its ability to support and collaborate with the Council, local Suicide Prevention Coalitions and key stakeholders to align suicide prevention efforts in a strategic manner to reduce suicide in Florida.
